JCI Creed
WE BELIEVE

- ▶ That faith in God gives meaning and purpose to human life;
- ▶ That the brotherhood of man transcends the sovereignty of nations;
- ▶ That economic justice can best be won by free men through free enterprise;
- ▶ That government should be of laws rather than of men;
- ▶ That earth's great treasure lies in human personality;
- ▶ And that service to humanity is the best work of life."

Message from National President

Time flies. Six months has passed in 2013!

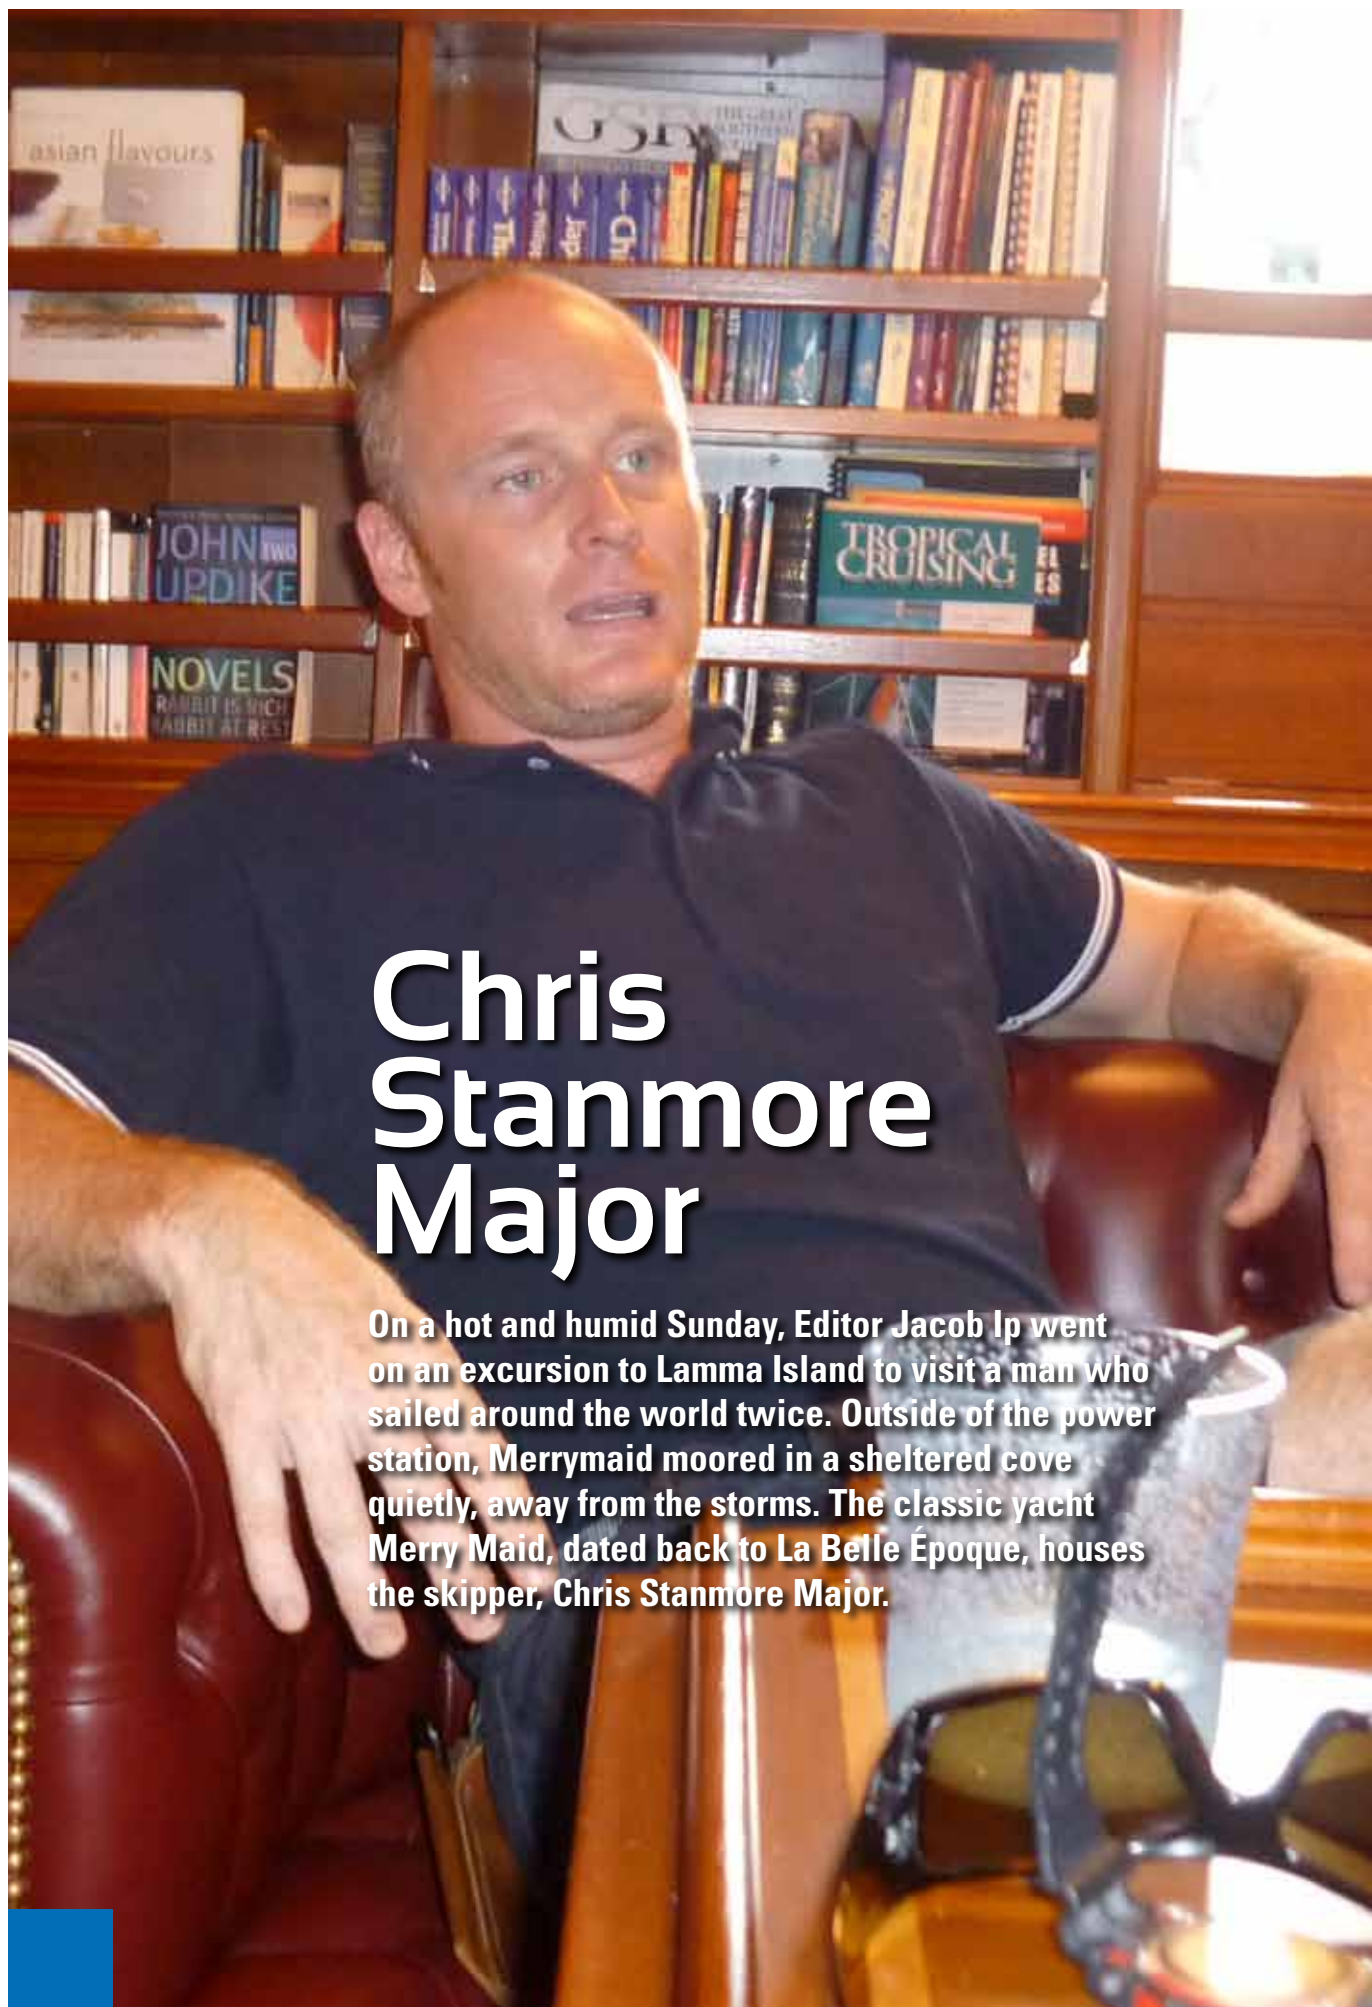

In these six months, Junior Chamber International Hong Kong had demonstrated an ACTIVE CITIZEN role model. We have organized the Ten Outstanding Young Persons Selection to recognize outstanding young leaders in our society, Nothing but Ramen to raise fund and also the public awareness of the needs of African children to get rid of the death threats by Malaria, and The Housing Forum for Youth with HKSAR Chief Executive to provide 2 way communication platform among young people and the government. In addition, JCIHK members have experienced the internationalism, unity and the power of Jaycee in ASPAC Gwangju.

Together with the projects and activities among 19 local chapters, we have done a great work in the society and have aroused the public concern to different social issues.

We are ONE Jaycee. It is not only the slogan for this year, it has also been demonstrated well by our members in Hong Kong.

In the second issue of Harbour Lights, it is a good memory for us to treasure the work we have done and the way forward.

JCIHK will go down in history as a bright and happy family with every effort our member have put in. Wish you all enjoy every moment in our JC history we created.

Chris Stanmore Major

On a hot and humid Sunday, Editor Jacob Ip went on an excursion to Lamma Island to visit a man who sailed around the world twice. Outside of the power station, Merrymaid moored in a sheltered cove quietly, away from the storms. The classic yacht Merry Maid, dated back to La Belle Époque, houses the skipper, Chris Stanmore Major.

Interview with Chris Stanmore Major

J: Jacob Ip

CSM: Chris Stanmore Major

J: How does the Clipper Race work?

CSM: People could be self-sponsored or being sponsored by other organizations. Basically they could be completely new to sailing, which means they could have a massive learning curve to cover. In the boat I skippered for the Clipper Race, there was nobody really sail before. When we set out for to cross the Atlantic for the first time, I was the only person who's a medic; I was the only person who's an electrician, I was the only person who's an engineer, I was the only sailor, and I was the only navigator. The role was I have all the knowledge and I have pass it all to the 20 people onboard. That was the ultimate sail training job, teaching them sail successfully and safely around the world. We had a lot of fun. We have a heap of fun doing that.

J: Is there any Chinese involving in offshore ocean sailing?

For instance, there were 7 sailors from the last episode sponsored by the Qingdao Sports Federation. This does have some impact in the development in the sailing circuit in China, a couple of Chinese sailors are setting to sail around the world solo in the coming years. I won't be surprise to see an entry of Chinese sailor to the Velux 5 race or other world class ocean racing in the near future.

J: What do people behave and gain out of offshore ocean training?

CSM: In some ways offshore ocean training shares some similarity with my managerial training. It is easy to have someone jump into a position to be a leader or to be a manager for a day or two, even for just a week. But as time goes by, people will start to wear out. Disciplined may start to come loose. Crisis and accident will start taking place which challenges the team. People may start losing their cool, having arguments, and showing their tempers. I believe longer span in time for managerial training gives a chance for participants to show and to learn more about themselves. We always look for that magic moment when people get to show what's truly in them beneath the surface. It resembles how people fall in love in 10 seconds. The key of a training exercise is, breaking the comfort zone in a moment which could benefit one for the rest of his or her life. The key is to set up the right circumstances to let people experience challenges. With good review and debriefing, these experiences will empower them for a long period of time in their life.

J: What are the differences between the East and the West when comes to training?

CSM: One time I was leading a group of MBA students who needs training to ensure success in their final project. They spent a week in the Outward Bound course and I pushed their physical capacity to the limit. From my observation, the local Hong Kong students strived to maintain the extreme politeness and the harmony within the group. On the other hand, the German students were focused on efficiency. They were happy to say "No! This is wrong! You shouldn't be doing this!" As for Mainland Chinese students, they were dedicated to move towards their own goal. Nowadays, everyone is trying to move upward in the business world. It is getting more and more stressful and difficult. I think the East maintains a better balance in community and family. The West is lacking that. On the other hand, the West has better in communication and talking about training, less hold backs.

J: Lastly, can you give a word to our Harbour Lights reader?

CSM: Here is a personal experience I would like to share. When racing offshore in the open ocean, it is legally acceptable to discard metal cans, glass, and food scraps overboard in the open ocean, no plastic, no rubber. I sorted my trash carefully, and then one day I had a bagful of ocean-friendly trash. However, I accidentally dumped it on a group of dolphins who followed my boat on a sunny morning. I felt really bad for that. After that little accident, I no longer throw decomposable trash overboard. We need to look after the environment and be conscious to our impact to the nature. This is important each individuals start having small changes. It may not do a lot to the big picture, but the change is going to influence the network around that enlightened individual, friends, co-worker, relatives, etc. Everyone is so close together now, bonding by social networks and media. Let's create the alliance of men to make changes!

Some say the grass is the greenest over the hill. I say, the grass is the greenest where you are standing; where you tender it.

《齊建港，理想家》青年論壇

23 May 2013 marks one of the major milestones for JCIHK in 2013 – the Housing Forum for Youth 《齊建港，理想家》青年論壇 hosted by JCI Ocean and JCI Kowloon.

The forum successfully built a 2 way communication platform for younger generation to express their view and address their needs on the housing and land supply issues towards the current government. We had the honor to invite Chief Executive of HKSAR Leung Chun-ying GBM, GBS, JP to not only share with us the limitations and concerns on land supply government is facing when establishing the housing policy, but also listened to the view points and challenges from post 70, 80 and 90 generations. Through JCI's strong international network we have also invited representatives from Singapore, Taiwan and Macau, revealing the pros and cons of housing policy from neighbouring regions.

We have invited 20 reputable youth organizations to support the event, gathered over 500 participants from young generations and set new benchmark in helping young active citizens to take the responsibility in shaping the future of our home, Hong Kong.

JCI OFFICIAL COURSE

In order for JCI to fulfill its Mission and provide opportunities for young people, its officers and members at all levels must perform their duties and responsibilities at the highest levels and build Local Organizations with skilled and motivated members who will join efforts to solve community challenges and create positive changes. To contribute to the achievement of this goal, experienced members who have advanced knowledge about JCI topics and the ability to transfer knowledge to adult audiences will have the opportunity help other members to learn new skills and to make additional contributions to JCI by becoming trainers at the local, national and international levels. Besides JCI values, trainers in JCI will also have and respect the following values: relevancy, excellence, trust and transparency.

Create Positive Change by Social Innovation cum LegCo Tour

To "Create Positive Change by Social Innovation", we aimed to bring in three elements to our members including educational, social awareness and FUN!! We began with an Educational Tour at the New Legislative Council. As a Jaycee, we follow protocols and parliamentary procedures, leadership development team wanted to raise members' awareness to these JC essentials and show them a real life application of parliamentary procedure. In addition, participants could enhance their understanding of the work of legislature and could explore the facilities of the new complex.

We were glad to have Ms. Teresa Sze, Project officer (bakery) from Tung Wah Group Hospitals Jockey Club Rehabilitation Complex as our guest speaker and share her experience in social enterprises' operation and how iBakery create job opportunities for people with disabilities.

We believe in JC, we share the common belief of contributing to the betterment of the community and developing skills and social responsibility to create positive change.

For leadership development, JCI Dragon is very honor to hold the JCI World Public Speaking Championship 2013 with JCI Bauhinia. In this competition, we can observe every leader is showing their ability, fascination and talent. The final contest has been held successfully on 20th April 2013 at Hong Kong Productivity Council. A total number of 10 Open Class finalists and 8 JC Class finalists had put their best effort to perform their speeches outstandingly in this intense competition.

Through organizing this meaningful competition, our Project Chairman and OC team have developed strong leadership skills and team work.

Leadership Development Workshop on MBTI

Do you know what are ISTJ, INFP, ESFJ, ENTP or the remaining 12 personality types? JCI East Kowloon organized a workshop on Myers-Briggs Type Indicator (MBTI) assessment which is a psychometric questionnaire designed to measure psychological preferences in how people perceive the world and make decisions. Through the workshop, we understand ourselves and others better which facilitate effective communication and interaction, and enhance team efficiency.

LD Workshop Series 1 - 1.06 Team Building within BOD members
Team building workshop was successfully held on 6Jan in Tuen Mun together with Gold Award Holders Association. We aimed to have better bonding for 2013 BOD members. Starting up with warm up exercise followed by wild cooking under limited resources. And all of our bod members enjoyed and learned through the exercise.

LD Workshop Series 2 - 4.14 Project Management
Project management workshop was successfully held on 14 Apr in JC Office. We had gone through JC core value, CD cycle, PM background, real case sharing followed by assignment to all participants. The main objective is to refresh existing members while having a clear picture for new members on how to handle a project effectively. Our members learned a lot from our trainers (PP Senator Amy Leung; PP Senator John Ng; PP Parlett Chang).

On behalf of LD team, I would like to express my sincere thanks to Queensway TDC as well as all Queensway member support. Stay tune with us for more activities.

北區躍動 社區共融

北區青年商會建立青年人參與社區事務的平台，於4月28日及5月18日順利舉行北區研討會及北區捐血日，研討會討論土地發展及跨境學童問題。研討會並得到東方日報以「商討三措施，助跨境童入學」為題報導，證明嘉賓們具有正面積極的分享。

為響應聯合國千年發展目標，本會於5月13日進行綠色辦公室獎勵計劃開幕禮，計劃透過向各企業參加培訓課程及審計，邀請各企業承諾以「確保環境的可持續能力」的方式營運。達標的企業可申請《環球愛心企業》標誌。

當天有約200名學生參加研討會，聽取台上嘉賓的分享及提出發問。

邀請到環境局局長黃錦星先生JP及二人創作組合糖兄妹作開幕禮嘉賓。

得到紅十字會協辦支持，約數十名民進行捐血，舒緩血庫緊張情況。

Love of the Earth

Love of the Earth is an annual flagship project of JCI Sha Tin which highlights specific environmental issues. This year, we aim to arouse the awareness of leftovers and food wastage in Hong Kong. Our Love of the Earth 2013 Ambassadors are Prince Bread Crust and Princess Mushroom, who cordially invite you to join our competition for the most creative recipe made from food waste. We encourage you to lead a life without food waste and lead your family, friends and even colleagues to do the same through your influence. As an Active Citizen you must come to our Open Sharing Seminar cum Food Waste Recipe Design Awards Presentation on 29 June 2013 and share with more than 10 external organizations how you can influence others on their environmentally-friendly habits.
