Message from National President

Stanley NG

Put our Eyes on “ASPAC 22”

We all know that JCI Asia-Pacific Conference (ASPAC) will be held in Hong Kong this year. But I believe most of us may not know the number of National members in Asia-Pacific. JCI Asia-Pacific actually comprises 22 national members:

- | | | | |
|---------------------|---------------------|------------------|-------------------|
| 1) JCI Australia | 2) JCI Bangladesh | 3) JCI Cambodia | 4) JCI Hong Kong |
| 5) JCI India | 6) JCI Indonesia | 7) JCI Japan | 8) JCI Korea |
| 9) JCI Macao | 10) JCI Malaysia | 11) JCI Maldives | 12) JCI Mongolia |
| 13) JCI Nepal | 14) JCI New Zealand | 15) JCI Pacific | 16) JCI Pakistan |
| 17) JCI Philippines | 18) JCI Taiwan | 19) JCI Vietnam | 20) JCI Singapore |
| 21) JCI Sri Lanka | 22) JCI Thailand | | |

Members of JCI Hong Kong, the active citizens who live in the Asia-World city, how much do you know about the above 22 national members?

Though we are all in the Asia-Pacific region, due to different historical background, different places are now in different stage of social, economic and environmental development. JC movement in different nations takes different roles in the communities to address different local social issues. Governance issue in Bangladesh, lack of clean water in India, lack of proper medical, optical and dental care in public health system in the Philippines, global warming concern in Maldives, natural disaster in Japan, excessive university places with non-parallel economic structure in Taiwan and Korea, youth unemployment and increasing low-income class in the developed nations, and much more different local and regional challenges drive JCI members never stop to devote our passion to serving the community.

In this year, it is expected that over 4,500 JCI Members from the above 22 places will unite in Hong Kong for JCI Asia-Pacific Conference to exchange ideas, learn how to maximize our local impact and collaborate with other National Organization in the Area. ASPAC gives members a chance to take advantage of JCI's international network while enhancing our National Organizations. It also gives us the opportunity to address international issues and to show our commitment to becoming socially responsible leaders. This global forum enables us to focus on solutions for our region and how we can grow, improve, share and create positive change across communities.

Jaycees and Jayceettes, I urge all of you to put our eyes on all “ASPAC 22” in the region. Be prepared. The theme of this year ASPAC is “Be Inspired. Be Empowered.” The future of the region is decided by us.

Interview with Prof Mok Ka Ho, Joshua

by Eliza Chan

We Decide Our Future

Grown up in a broken family, Prof Mok Ka Ho, Joshua has “decided his future”. In his 40s, Prof Mok has already assumed senior positions in the education field:

- the Chair Professor of Comparative Policy, concurrently Associate Vice President (External Relations), Dean of Faculty of Arts and Sciences, and Director of Centre for Greater China Studies of The Hong Kong Institute of Education (HKIEd);
- has worked closely with the World Bank and UNICEF as International Consultant for comparative development and policy studies projects;
- a part-time member of the Central Policy Unit, The HKSAR Government.

While he has humbly attributed his achievement to the grace of god, his persistence has made him succeed. He described himself as a typical example of those who were born in the 1960's and succeeds under the Lion Rock Spirit 獅子山精神.

Prof Mok's road to success is never easy. Having a tough childhood and without any family support, Prof Mok had to earn his own living at the young age of Secondary Five. Despite the adversity, he did not give up the opportunity to pursue further education and has successfully won battles one after another to aspire to his current position.

First Battle - From a Diffident “Male Cinderella” to a Confident Individual

Prof Mok humorously said that with an ordinary outlook, he was not confident at his secondary education. With religious support, he found faith, love and motivating force to work hard. Being the Head Prefect and the President of Student Union, he has transformed to be confident and learned how to lead and speak publicly.

Second Battle - The Pursuit of Academic Studies

During his studies, he fought to prove his academic ability to people. Being the first cohort of graduates in the then City Polytechnic of Hong Kong, he was looked down on by others in his Master's studies in the Chinese University of Hong Kong. Yet he demonstrated his talent and was admitted to the PhD studies in the London School of Economics in the UK. He even broke the record at that time to finish his PhD studies in 2 years 9 months and had his thesis published by a UK publisher.

Third Battle - The Road to be an International Recognized Scholar

After graduation from his PhD studies, Prof Mok joined the City University of Hong Kong as an Assistant Professor in 1994. Since then, he has published extensively with an impressive research record. He was exceptionally approved to cross the promotion band to be Associate Professor (Scale A) in 1999 and later appointed as the Associate Dean of the Faculty. Feeling inexperienced to be the Associate Dean in a Faculty with many seniors and his former teachers, he was encouraged by the words of the former Dean “When you are in the position, you can maximize.” He overcame the gossips and questioning of his ability to win others' respect. In 2005 (aged below 40), he took up the prominent appointment as the Chair Professor and Founding Director in the Centre for East Asian Studies in the University of Bristol. As Prof Eric Thomas, President of the University of Bristol commented, “Ka Ho is too young for a chair professor, but I like him to take up this position”.

Fourth Battle - from HKU to HKIEd

With a mission to serve Hong Kong, Prof Mok moved from the UK to serve as the Associate Dean and Professor of Social Policy, Faculty of Social Sciences, The University of Hong Kong (HKU). He faced another battle when he quitted his permanent position in the HKU to establish the new Faculty of Arts and Sciences in the HKIEd. He admitted that it was difficult to leave his comfort zone, but the experience has been rewarding. Within a short time, he has established ten new programmes and a number of research centres in the Faculty.

Success Tips

Prof Mok is very humble to attribute his success to the grace of god, but it is clear that he has been conscientious and has his keys to success:

- To try maintaining harmony in the team while upholding his principles and belief;
- To be determined and persistent to do the best;
- To be an academic of integrity.

He advised the young to have dreams and should make efforts to put dreams into action. There are both sunny and cloudy days. However, if one can insist and reflect through the cloudy days, he/she would overcome the difficulties and succeed.

Political and Social Development in Hong Kong

Being an expert in comparative policy, Prof Mok advised Hong Kong people to embrace an international outlook and comparative approach to deal with problems. He encouraged young people to have independent thinking and to understand China from different angles. He quoted the example from the recent Chief Executive election in which people might be easily led by the media without independent thinking. He commented that the previous education reforms did not serve to improve the system but instead used the wrong "Cultural Revolution" approach to criticize the quality of teachers. While the Government has advocated "educational services" to be one of the six industries, he opined that the Government has not given sufficient support to education. Training of teachers plays an important role to improve the quality of people and nurture talents. If the Government places due emphasis on education, the HKIEd should have been made a university to attract the best academics to train quality teachers.

In dealing with the current problems faced by Hong Kong, "it is necessary to have policy learning and policy studies based on Asian countries, instead of policy copying from western countries without contextualization", said Prof Mok. He commented that Hong Kong is a comparatively good place than other countries. To move ahead with the political development in Hong Kong, the lack of "political" professionals needs to be resolved. He has the mission to offer political training classes to cultivate people with knowledge of policy studies.

The Education System in Hong Kong

With the New Academic Structure implemented in 2012, Prof Mok viewed this as a positive development in the Hong Kong education system. He commented that students were overburdened with examinations (HKCEE and HKALE) in the past and that academic results should not be the sole consideration in the admission to universities. The change to a 4-year university studies has the benefit of not only allowing multi-disciplinary studies, but also providing students with the opportunity of international exchange. Prof Mok stressed the importance of overseas exchange as broadening the outlook of students. For the new secondary education, it is a good move to introduce liberal studies to broaden students' perspective though he does not agree to have examination for the subject.

For the expansion of the university places, Prof Mok does not support a massive increase unless it is matched by the corresponding increase of places and diversification in the employment sector. He commented that it was a wrong lesson for Taiwan to dramatically increase the tertiary sector without necessary changes. Taiwan university graduates now suffer from high unemployment and decreasing salary.

His Another Side - A Man who Values his Family

Last but not least, Prof Mok values his family a lot. He has a pretty wife and two lovely daughters who give him much support and trust to allow him to commit to his busy work. He joked that his wife has been his "opposition party" who always gives him sound advices. To his family, he has been a loyal husband and a role model of his two daughters.

"it is necessary to have policy learning and policy studies based on Asian countries, instead of policy copying from western countries without contextualization."

Interview with 1961 National President John D'Eath

by Ronald Kan

Past National President (PNP) John resides with his wife Lane in Vancouver, Canada and sits on a number of corporate and organization's boards. They have two sons and a daughter. PNP joined JCIHK in 1958 and left Hong Kong in 1966.

A "Special" Surname

PNP John was born with the surname "Death". It originated from a place in Flanders called Ath. De Ath is French which means a person from Ath. Over time the surname became Death. When PNP John graduated from London University, he could not find a job while his classmates whom had lower grades all got one. He got together with his classmates trying to figure out the problem and they concluded that he needed a name change. They flicked through the book trying to find some historical variations to his name and came up with a few like D'Eitte, D'Eatre and so on. He sent out job applications using different names and D'eath got him in, so he kept it for a while. Then came the computer age when he travelled to North America by air. The computer did not accept apostrophes and he was back to DEATH on his air ticket - with the air hostess apologizing to him. This made him add an 'e' after his name. But every now and then air hostesses came up to him saying, 'Did you know if you take off the 'e' from your name...'. His youngest son used to be a rock star and he kept the name Death.

A Visit to Hong Kong to Celebrate the 50th Anniversary of Mandarin Oriental PNP John came back from Canada for a week or so to celebrate the 50th Anniversary of Mandarin Oriental. He used to work in Hong Kong Land and was involved in the setting up of Mandarin Oriental and the first pedestrian bridge in Hong Kong which linked it up with Prince's Building. At that time, Star Ferry was only a few steps away from the hotel quite close to City Hall. It was the busiest place in town with hawkers selling plastic flowers. People used to take the ferry across to the clock tower where the train station was located and travelled to the New Territories. Economic activity centred around that one straight line from Victoria (now Central) and all the way up the railway. When more people went through Mandarin Oriental for Star Ferry he had Sikh statues built on the pedestrian bridge to scare people away.

JCI in His Days

The JC office was located at Hong Kong Bank Tower with rent negotiated at 80 cents per square foot. There were quite a mix of races in JCIHK, but there were no racial problems at that time. Anybody could join but mainly the wealthy joined and it was like 1% helping the rest of the population. The JCIHK had a close relationship with the government, a complete cooperation actually. Industries were not built up to support everyone, so all NGOs were welcome. The Deputy Governor came to the opening of a piggery on Sunshine Island. The JCIHK was concerned with the welfare of abandoned children in North Point who suffered from mental illness or were deformed. A Walking with the Blind campaign was launched where the JCIHK handed out thousands of white walking sticks and encouraged the people of Hong Kong to give a hand to those with the sticks whenever they saw them on the streets. The JCIHK also helped those who came from China and were living in shanty houses. For example, noodle machines were bought for them. Nine projects were completed in 1961. The JCIHK competed for the Most Socially Aware Award at the 1961 Puerto Rico World Congress proclaiming that if JCIHK was to win the Award, the money would be used to fund the 10th project and JCIHK won!

Preparatory Work for the 1962 Hong Kong World Congress

Hong Kong Land gave 6 months' leave to UK-expatriates after working for 3 years in Hong Kong together with an around the world ticket given that one remained single during that time. PNP John travelled to more than 20 countries in Asia, America, Europe and Africa during those 6 months promoting the Hong Kong Congress without having to pay for the air ticket.

Interview with JCI President Bertolt Daems

by Samantha Ho

2012 JCI President Bertolt Daems's passion and momentum can be revealed by his whirlwind trip to Hong Kong, during which his schedule was packed with visits to Government bodies and officials to promote the JCI missions, visions and values.

Difference between JCI Europe and JCI Asia

President Daems's very first trip of his presidency was Asia. He visited JCI Taiwan for the Inauguration before coming to Hong Kong. He was impressed with many inspirational stories shared by members during the trip. There were many interesting projects with major impacts on our community that President Daems thought that we should be very proud of. Our JCI President comes from the Netherlands. As a European, he found that there exists some difference between JCI Europe and JCI Asia though we are sharing the same JCI mission, visions and values. Since most of the European countries are more developed in terms of their economic, public and social welfare systems, there are fewer projects on community development in JCI Europe.

JCI Active Citizen Framework and Internationalism

It became a challenge to JCI when JCI Active Citizen Framework was introduced in 2008. We believe that by taking responsibility for our communities, JCI members can create solutions to the problems we see around us. JCI has committed to developing partnerships across the three sectors – business, government and civil society. What JCI provides you is the unique exposure to the four areas of development opportunities – international, individual, business and community. "We are still facing lots of challenges in the world", President Daems said. The internationalism of JCI creates good connections between nations and enables us to engage with each other in meaningful projects to help the society. President Daems is pleased to see that nearly every local chapter has sisterhood ties with at least one local chapter in another country. Under such a well developed twinning program, it facilitates exchange and sharing of ideas and fosters joint projects and international collaborations that produce positive impact on the society. Though it is challenging, it is important to develop and sustain powerful global partnership across cities and countries, and among young global leaders to provide solutions to the global problems. President Daems expressed that "in JCI Europe we face challenges in getting people to attend the National Convention, with only about 50-60% attendance at the national level".

We Decide Our Future

President Daems considers "the challenge ahead of us is to get young people to take responsibilities and get them involved in our movements. We should give young people advices, support and guidance. Facing the new economic system breakdown since the Second World War, we should seek innovative ways to solve the problems."

In this fast-changing world with many new ways of communication such as Facebook and Twitter, the world is getting smaller. People can visit the Internet to obtain information and knowledge easily. Under this free flow of information which expedites globalization, the core values of young people are decreasing. President Daems encouraged us, as a global citizen, to observe, to identify and to react to the local and global issues in Hong Kong or in Asia. He advised us that the future of our city, our country and our World is in our hands. Together we are a global team taking the lead to build better communities and decide our future. President Daems's final advice is "to support the minds of young people".

Interview with JCI Executive Vice President Batbayar Ulziidelger

by Jasmine Yeung

A Quote —

“... there are many JC members in every corner of the world - Japan, Africa, Europe, Americas...these people have different culture, language, proficiency but we share one same goal - to be active citizens. What other organization can achieve that? This is brilliant! You know? This organization!

... But with JCI it is about the community, about global issues. People in JC have the same mentality. It is really fun and there is a lot of energy, positive energy. There is a wish to dedicate, to make an impact on the world and other people. You cannot achieve this on your own. We do it as a team through our wide global network.

You asked why I became JCI EVP. Because what I learned, I want to share. One very important thing I learn in JCI is that you do not ask to get or take anything. You just have to give, and then you would receive what you give.”

Interview with JCI Vice President Seung-Sup Shin

by Ronald Kan

A Quote —

“In JCI, we keep on learning. Even though each term is for one year only, the opportunity or experience coming from it is infinite. A member performs his or her utmost in that year as if it is his or her last year in JCI. We get a lot of support from fellow members and I am happy to take part in this international network.

... You do not have a lot of opportunity to host ASPAC here in your JCI life: just consider this as your first and last chance and do not just think of making a profit.

Our organization is about sharing experiences. Many seniors and mentors are willing to share and guide you especially when help is much needed in the beginning of a member's JCI career. Members are keen to step into each other's shoes and take the initiative to understand others.”

拜訪中華全國青年聯合會 暨 國情研習班

Summary: A delegation of over 30 representatives of Junior Chamber International Hong Kong set foot in Beijing from 5 to 9 April 2012. Besides attending classes of "One Country Two Systems", politics, economics and diplomatic relations of China, the delegates also visited various official authorities, United Nations institutions and exchanged with youth organizations and their representatives.

拜訪中華全國青年聯合會暨國情研習班

這次國情研習班，中國青年政治學院提供了具啟發性的課程：以中共十三大時期鄧小平《黨和國家領導制度的改革》的講話為參照，老師簡述了政治體制改革的目的、問題、及延伸至今的現況；基本法在一國兩制的實踐中舉足輕重，老師以香港法院對違反基本法的審查權為引，分析了基本法解釋權如何引伸出一國兩制間的權力分配及磨合問題；國家經濟實力的提升，人民幣匯率、經濟增長、通脹、外貿、股市等，對世界經濟金融影響漸重，老師在分析國際及國內當前宏觀經濟形勢與經濟政策當中，道出了中國暨是以政策為主導的自主經濟實體，也是地球村中與各大經濟力量緊緊相連的板塊；軟實力的增長，帶來了硬實力的挑戰，老師在簡述中國東南西北周邊態勢及外交關係時，在戰略反思中指出了東面太平洋形勢的多變性及重要性，難怪近期美國重返太平洋、釣魚台的爭端、以及南海對峙等事件接踵浮現。

課堂是了解的基礎，親身接觸的人事，才是理解的開始。中國實行民主集中制，在中共的領導下，集各家意見以決定國家政策；代表團拜訪了中共中央統戰部，了解其統一戰線的目的、意義、及實際工作；代表團在全國政協金廳中拜訪時，對這個國家級的諮詢組織在政治及政策制定的強大影響力略窺一斑；在港人熟識的港澳辦，代表團聽到了其對本港事務及情況的了解及觀點。

北京亦是與國際接觸甚多的城市，代表團拜訪了聯合國駐北京辦事處，與聯合國義工計劃組織 (United Nations Volunteers (UNV)) 及全球契約中國網絡 (Global Compact Network China) 的人員交流，為香港青商與其合作建立了溝通渠道；中華全國青年聯合會組織了與內地青年交流座談會，就他們的成長、學習、創業、抱負、及對國家發展，與代表團交流意見。

北京的後海旁，由從前四合院的清幽，發展成現在燈紅酒綠的浮華；故宮天壇長城宏偉的歷史氣魄，與鳥巢水立方三里屯 798 的現代色彩，相互輝映；要了解、理解國情，縱然不是鑑古通今，也需以包容全面及與時並進的角度出發；這次的旅程，只是一個起點。

國情者，國家之基本情況及特點；國是者，國家之重大政策；2012年4月5日至9日，北京初春，國際青年商會香港總會一行三十多人的代表團，踏上了研習國情國是的旅程。

九七年香港回歸後，國家經歷發展，2000年加入世貿、2008年北京辦奧運、2010年上海辦世博等，均展示了政治、經濟、社會、國際關係各方面的重大變化，要了解現況，需從多方面切入，以宏觀的角度綜合認識。

Small Hobby, Big Accomplishment, Celebrities Teach You How to Be Successful

The Change Maker Forum I was successfully held on 11 February 2012. It attracted over 300 audiences. Participants enjoyed and benefitted from the sharing from prominent speakers including:

Speakers

1. The Hon Paul Tse, JP, HKSAR Legislator
2. Dr Edwin Lee, Founder & CEO of BRIDGEWAY Co. Ltd
3. Miss Lisa Cheng, Champion of World Bodybuilding
4. Miss Prudence Mak, Founder of Chocolate Rain

The talks were stimulating and the speakers encouraged the young to adopt the "dare to create" attitude to explore more life experiences and to get ready for possible change. The real story of KFC was also shared in which the founder had tried to promote the recipe to different restaurants. After 1009's failure, he succeeded and it's all about taking the first step and try!

Positive change is just around the corner. The Change Maker Forum is the first step to motivate positive change from the young. JCIHK is the platform for the young to equip themselves and bring positive change to themselves.

How can you miss the Change Maker Forum II?

Energy Saving in the Chamber Office

Sponsored by the Jackwell Limited in early 2011, the JCIHK Chamber Office undertook a lighting upgrade which led to great energy saving by over 80% on this particular item. To take the example, the use of 3 battens in the corridor saved JCIHK $1,500 a year.

The major changes are:

- converting 35W halogen lamp to 4W LED spotlight
- replacing T8 tubes with T5 tubes using specialized T8 to T5 adaptor with built-in reflector

In addition to energy saving, the upgrade brought about quality improvements to the Office:

- most part of the ceilings look like new and can be kept white for a long time
- the chamber space, board room and the corridor are brighter than before

This has won the JCIHK the award for participation in the Power Smart Contest 2011 organized by the Friends of the Earth by having reached the minimum energy saving target by at least 2% than 2010. The sponsorship company, Jackwell Limited, was also awarded the 2nd runner-up in Business category of Power Smart Contest 2011.

Dialogue Between the Presidents of American Chamber of Commerce and JCIHK

On 8 March 2012, JCI Kowloon organized a very special event - Dialogue Between the Presidents of American Chamber of Commerce and JCIHK. Leaders from the two most reputable organizations in Hong Kong - President of American Chamber Dr Richard Vuylsteke and National President of JCIHK Mr Stanley Ng shared with us their impeccable vision and what it takes to be the leader. American Chamber is one of the largest foreign chambers in Hong Kong with its focus on creating business opportunity and sharing market and professional intelligence. Their organization is filled with young professionals looking to have more exposure in the society that will help our members "breakout of their boxes" and excel in the future. Dialogue between the leaders of the two organizations not only benefits our members in many aspects, but also is a great opportunity to impress the young professionals of American Chamber towards JCIHK.

It is with great honour that other than 60 people both from American Chamber and JCI Kowloon, JCI VP Senator Seung-Sup Shin also joined the event to witness the historical moment. It was an enjoyable event and it is for certain similar events will be arranged again soon.

JC Action Is In Full Swing at JCI Island

Starting with the Inauguration Ceremony in January, JCI Island has held a variety of well-supported events in the first quarter. The Officer Training Camp was excellent; and all board members learned to be better Islanders. Fellowship gatherings and happy hours are held to the delights of Islanders and friends. Two new members, Litai Wai and Chris Kung, were inducted and enjoy the friendship and fun our chapter offers. We have also rekindled international friendships at the Inaugurations of our sister chapters in Taipei and Seoul.

The 1st Business Network Gathering was a Success

The 1st Business Network Gathering held in February was a success, with robust registration boosting proactive participants from within and outside JC, positive networking atmosphere, and thought-provoking presentation from the guest speaker Garic Kwok, Director of Taipan Bread & Cakes. More will come as the year goes along.

Next Few Months...

Over the next few months, things will certainly be heating up in JCI Island with lots of "fun" events, happy hours and gatherings. And, we await the arrival of friends from our sister chapters during ASPAC and throughout the year!

Bring Positive Change to the Society

In March, Volunteers Dragon was successfully established under JCI Dragon. The Vision of Volunteers Dragon is to unify the power of the community, promote volunteerism and bring positive change to our community.

Volunteers Dragon not only unifies all people who are interested in community service, but also collaborates with different organizations to contribute to our social community. We will extend volunteerism from the chamber level to the public.

Lately, we have co-organized with United Christian Hospital to help their volunteer department - "Green Angel" to distribute free gifts to the elderly together with our warmest regards. Through this community service, all Volunteers Dragon have been given a seminar to learn the technique of visiting patients, with a sharing session afterwards for each volunteer to share their feeling and experience. Most of all, each of volunteer has learnt the importance of caring people in need.

Other than that, a Monthly Fellowship Gathering was successfully organized in the same month. Mr Roy Ma, Managing Director of Pure Media Asia (HK) Ltd, was invited to share his expertise in both online and offline marketing. Our members' knowledge of selecting the right media has been enhanced.

Establishment of the Senior Member Club

Although JCI East Kowloon was founded for 32 years, we did not have our Senior Member Club (SMC) till this year. The establishment of SMC is certainly one of the significant events of JCI East Kowloon in 2012. The main objectives of the SMC are to retain and re-union senior members, and to co-ordinate senior members between the Board and National Senior Member Club.

With the support and hard work of members and after months of planning and preparation, the Charter Night of SMC was intentionally held on 2 March which is the following day of the Charter Night of JCI East Kowloon. The Chairman of the SMC is Senator OK Yung.

The Charter Night was well-attended by many senior members and members of the chapter, distinguished guests from NOM and other chapters. The ceremony started by presenting the SMC flag and awarding of Charter Member Certificates. Attractive games and interesting programs followed: a video introducing senior members, sharing from senior members of their visions and blessings to SMC making the atmosphere warm and exciting. All participants and guests enjoyed the night very much and found it very interesting and memorable.
